And the Word Was Made Flesh
In gratitude for your spiritual and material help,
A Novena of Masses
will be said for all of you by a priest of the Society of St. Pius X.

Four orders of Sisters attended this year's Angelus Press Conference. In the front row are the Consoling Sisters, whose Motherhouse is in Italy. They just started another foundation in Phoenix, AZ. In the center row are Fanjeaux Dominican Sisters from each of the three US houses. Their Motherhouse is in France and they have over twenty houses. We are in the back row, and we have only one house. The SSPX Sisters are not pictured, but they came on Saturday and have many houses worldwide. Their Motherhouse is also in France. Young Ladies, you have choices!

Children wait their turn to play games at the All Saint's Day party. The High School girls of St. Vincent de Paul Academy organized the day's events.

The St. Vincent de Paul Guides volunteered their time on December 9th, helping us with several projects. These girls are committed to furthering the reign of Christ in their own souls and in the world! That evening, after praying before the Blessed Sacrament, one Guide made her first promise in front of the group, offering herself to serve God and neighbor, agreeing to abide by the first obligation of the Guides—to remain in the state of grace—to practice the Guide's main virtues of honesty, selflessness, and purity, and to live by the law of the Guides, which espouses loyalty, obedience, courtesy, cheerfulness, thrift, service, love of the home and love of country. We were very edified.

WE HAVE MADE A CHANGE TO THE ELECTRONIC DONATION PROCESS: THE TIP TO THE GIVEBUTTER PLATFORM IS NOW OPTIONAL AND YOU CONTROL THE AMOUNT. To donate this way, go to traditionalosf.org/donate. The option to cover the credit card processing fee is still there. You can also text HELPOSF to 53-555 or scan the QR code below. We are still happy to receive checks in the mail as well! Thank you for your support!
